

Contemporary Art Center of Virginia

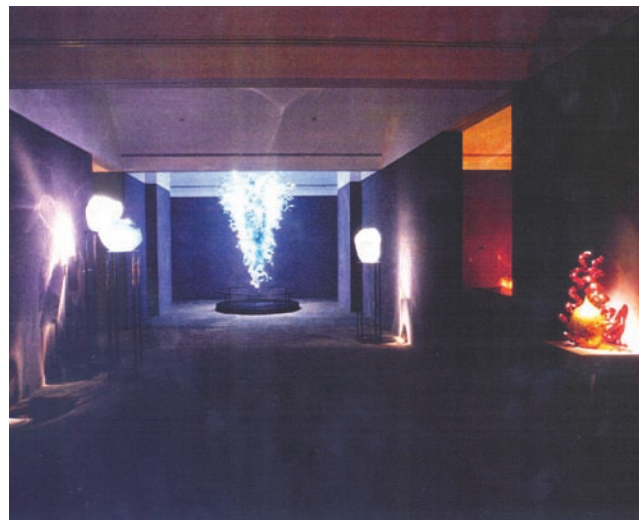

Virginia Beach, Virginia

Architect for new building

The 33,575 sq.ft. new building features a central skylit courtyard— providing an airy, porch-like transition between the outdoor sculpture garden and the carefully controlled environment of the exhibition galleries. As the hub of the building, this interior courtyard establishes a place of arrival and gathering and provides access to the Center's various facilities.

Three Lighting / Space Configurations of the Same Gallery