

Dekelbom Science Center

West Palm Beach, Florida

Programming, Master Planning and Architect for new building

Designed as a response to the surrounding ecology of Southern Florida, the Dekelbom Science Center contains massing elements inspired by the wading birds of the "Sea of Grass." Located in West Palm Beach, the Science Center will be a new, three-floor facility containing 103,000 gross sq. ft., including 30,000 sq. ft. of science and aquarium exhibits, a large format theater, a planetarium, and an auditorium.
